Lillibet's Little Lad Lacks Nothing But His Name

LONDON, Dec. 13.—(AP)—Princess Elizabeth's baby was described last night as "golden-haired, with a most beautiful complexion."

Countess Granville, sister of Queen Elizabeth, giving the first public description of the four-week-old Prince, said the "couldn't be more angelic-looking." She added that the infant has "amazingly delicate features for so young a baby."

The Countess, a recent visitor to Buckingham Palace, gave the description of the baby in a talk to a Girl Guide conference.

Yesterday, London's Sunday Express reported the Palace for being so close-mouthed about the baby.

The "Sunday Express has no desire at this time to intrude unduly into the private life of the Royal Family. . . . But at the same time it holds the nation's interest and affection to an unusual degree as a future heir to the throne."

The son born to Princess Elizabeth and Prince Philip Nov. 14 has been seen by few people. But his lady's lungs have been heard in the nursery where the staff at Buckingham Palace.

REGULAR TIMES
Not that the youngster is a bad boy. But Princess Elizabeth is reported to insist on regularity. Babies' tummies are notoriously bad timekeepers. So when hunger bells ring, the infant prines.

At present Elizabeth is nursing the baby. In about two or three months he probably will be placed on the bottle. He sleeps long hours in his cradled crier.

Baby has his bath promptly at 5 a.m. daily. The water is always carefully tested, the temperature always the same.

After the bath is taken to his mother for feeding at 10 a.m.

QUEEN VISITS
After the feeding, Queen Elizabeth usually visits her daughter and grandson for an hour. The Queen also returns to Elizabeth's apartment after lunch for another snack at the baby before his afternoon nap.

First business on schedule now is election of a name for the baby. The choice will not be revealed until his christening Wednesday by the Archbishop of Canterbury in a special service in one of the state rooms on the first floor of Buckingham Palace.

BEEF-LOVING BRITONS EAT LESS OF IT

LONDON, Dec. 13.—(AP)—Beef-loving Britons on the average eat only half as much meat as Americans.

A report issued by the Commonwealth Economic Committee showed today that consumption of meat per person in the United Kingdom has dropped from 119 pounds before the war to 77 pounds in 1947.

In the United States, meantime, it increased from 128 pounds before the war to 153 pounds in 1947.

A British family enjoys one or two meat meals a week at home under today's ration. Meat in restaurants is not rationed, but the prices are high.

The deadline for all photographs is midnight Saturday, December 18, and unless your entry is post marked prior to that date it will not be eligible.

Although a sharp increase was shown in city entries over the weekend and again in this morning's mail, the number of submissions managed to hold a slight edge over the localities.

In reply to many inquiries, all photographs will be returned in accordance with rules and regulations of the contest. Entry form appears on Page 17 of today's Bulletin.

Submit your photographs now. They may win you a valuable cash prize which is sure to come in an interview, and shortages should not affect this area even if they were felt in eastern Canada and on the west coast.

No Butter Shortage On the Prairies

DIRECTORS AGREE
Mayor Alvin Say said CNR officials met last night with a board of directors had agreed to recommend to the cabinet that construction of the extension be carried out.

In the meantime negotiations are proceeding to acquire property for the extension.

City of Edmonton several months ago purchased two lots at the corner of 100 street and Jasper avenue for $70,000.

These lots, with two city-owned lots immediately east, will be made available to the CNR for park purposes.

Under negotiations between the CNR and city officials the CNR is to purchase two city-owned lots at their assessed value, and is to acquire a further two lots to the west to complete the extension site.

Hotel Plan Seems Sure To Get OK

Cabinet Sanction Seen As Token Of Gov't Support

Edmonton's hotel-hungry populace has no worries about parliament-senate support for cabinet approval of the $4,000,000 Macdonald hotel extension.

Cabinet approval "in principle" of a 200-room or more extension to the Macdonald was announced yesterday in The Bulletin. Businessmen, travellers and citizens in general are certain that Edmonton is at last on the way toward substantial relief in the urgent matter of hotel accommodation.

Meanwhile, city officials are seeking a 200-room addition to the hotel as the minimum to meet the city's expansion.

Representations have already been made to CNR officials.

The city points out that the larger extension will be the most economical from the long-term point of view.

Major Harry Alvin said administrative costs would be the same for the 200-room extension and for the suggested 300-room minimum.

He added that the decision on the site of the extension had been communicated to civil officials.

City of Edmonton several months ago purchased two lots at the corner of 100 street and Jasper avenue for $70,000.

These lots, with two city-owned lots immediately east, will be made available to the CNR for park purposes.

On that date there were 28,861 telephone in operation, 13,317 of which were residences and 15,544 in business houses.

West Bakeries Claimed 'Acts in Restraint Of Trade' Charged

OTTAWA, Dec. 13.—(CP)—The Combines Investigation Commission today named five western Canadian baking companies and two trade associations as members of an alleged combine seeking to control all bread prices in three provinces.

They operated in Saskatchewan, Alberta, and British Columbia, the commission said in a report written by H. Carl Goldenberg, of Montreal, who investigated the industry last March and April as a special commissioner.

The report said the evidence taken by Mr. Goldenberg disclosed acts in restraint of trade which he considered violated the Combines Investigation Act. Copies of the report have been sent to the attorneys general of the three provinces concerned for their study.

The report identified the companies as McGavin Bakers Ltd., Vancouver, B.C.; McGavin Ltd. (Alberta), Canadian Bakers Ltd., and Weston Bread and Cake (Canada) Ltd. The Alberta Bakers' Association, the Western Bakers' Association (Vancouver) were the trade groups.

Their activities had resulted in the progressive elimination of price competition in the three provinces, and that arrangements had been made to charge "possible deviation" from the set price.

Hearings were held in March and April at Edmonton, Calgary, Vancouver, Regina, Saskatoon, Winnipeg. The report said the companies named as members of the combine operated out of quarters of the bread made in the three provinces.

The price-fixing activities of the firms dated back to at least 1935, Mr. Goldenberg said, citing uniform price increases and a novel of control in 1947 as one of the results. Retailers had been threatened with discontinuance of supplies if they failed to maintain prices established by the alleged combine.

"The western chain bakeries, acting through the Alberta Master Bakers' Association, appear to exercise their greatest degree of control of competition in the province," Mr. Goldenberg said in his report. He investigated the case in the three provinces under the Combines Investigation Act.

Extensive plans for training camps and manoeuvres for Alberta's reserve regiments during the coming year were laid down by 35 officers attending a Sunday conference at Western Army Command.

Under command of Brig. J. C. Jefferson, representatives of three units at the conference prepared to launch the most successful and effective of the past three years' exercises.

Winter manoeuvres will be held the first two weeks in February at Wainwright, and will feature late in winter clothing and equipment for the province's reserve personnel.

Major-Drs. M. H. S. Penhale, officer commanding Western Army Command, pointed out the necessity for these military camps and a strong defense program during the coming year.

Also brought up in the discussions was the question of personnel and benefits for all personnel taking part in the proposed training program. This year's training camps will feature more relaxation and entertainment facilities, including a theatre.

Summer exercises will take place again along the Alaska Highway in August. The training program will be designed as North Three, and will include the three regiments, Calgary Highlanders, South Alberta Regiment, and the Royal Edmonton Regiment.

DISTRICT NEWS IN BRIEF

Westlock Airfield Is Given Approval

WESTLOCK, Dec. 13.—Westlock has an airfield. And there is a certificate from the Department of Transport to prove it. What's more, the field has already been christened by the wheels of a "foreign" plane.

In the window of Bill Glover's shop is hanging this new certificate. It is a certificate of approval for use by the local flying club and, incidentally, the field at the George Beach farm. This gives an ideal landing spot for the plane used by the local flying club at lessons, and for visiting aerobically.

And last week, Miss Shirley Collins, Edmonton girl pilot, came in with her sports plane for a visit with some of the local enthusiasts, giving some "tips" to her crew.

Recently, while taking the flying lessons had their medicals in the town, and reports are that all passed satisfactorily. The club is still flying over the idea of buying their own club plane. Perhaps in time there will be several owning their own craft in the district.

Wetaskiwin Officials Give Annual Reports

WETASKIWIN, Dec. 13.—A contest in both mayoralty and aldermanic seats brought out one of the largest crowds in Elks Hall for years, to hear Mayor Morley Merton give an accounting for the past year and to hear all candidates for seats give their platforms.

The mayor then called on Herman Strohach, chairman of the Community Hospital board to give the annual report on that institution. Other reports were presented by N. Oswald, retiring chairman of the school board, while the report of Dr. J. Melting, medical health officer was read by the mayor as were reports submitted by Dr. A. C. Christian, veterinary officer and Sergeant D. A. Dunlop, uncommissioned officer in charge of the RCMP detachment by whom the city is policed.

Notable in the report of the Medical Health Officer was that during the past year there have been no major cases of contagious disease.

The mayor also read the reports of the various sub-committees of the council and briefly reviewed its activities. He appealed to the voters for re-election on the record of his administration over the past two years.

C. D. Kuman, former mayor for 12 years and alderman for six years spoke briefly.

Literary Harold Inglis, seeking re-election, was not present, but alderman Alderson was by the other retiring aldermen, Paul Nommensen and Harry Meraw. Geoffrey Baker, former alderman and again a candidate said he felt there was much to be done, particularly in the way of taxation reforms. His experience, he submitted.

VANCOUVER, Dec. 13.—(CP)—Six traffic deaths, one recorded in the greater Vancouver area during the week-end. Two of the deaths were in Vancouver sending the city's 1948 fatality toll to 40.

Only Official OK Awaits Nfld. Union Parliamentary Approval Will Seal Greater Confederation

By George Kitchen

OTTAWA, Dec. 13.—(CP)—Framework for a greater Canadian confederation has been prepared and awaits only the official and formal seal of parliamentary approval.

One of the last steps was taken Saturday when eight men met in the state senate chamber of the Parliament buildings and signed historic terms of union of Newfoundland with Canada.

They were Prime Minister St. Laurent and Hon. Brooke Claxton, acting external affairs minister, who signed for Canada; and A. J. Walsh, chairman of the Newfoundland negotiating committee, and five other Newfoundlanders who signed for the people of the 460,000-island colony.

DREAM FULFILLED

They dipped their pens in an inkstand used at Quebec in 1864 by the original Fathers of Confederation, who envisioned a Canada which would include Newfoundland as well as the other British North American colonies.

That dream will reach fulfillment next March 31 when formal union is expected to take place.

Between now and that date, terms of union will be approved by the parliament of Canada and the government of Newfoundland and an enabling bill passed by the British parliament.

Then, a Lieutenant-Governor of Newfoundland will be appointed. He, in turn, will select an executive committee to govern the island until elections are held and the first provincial legislature of this new Canadian province convenes. The legislature must meet no later than four months after March 31.

TRANSITIONAL GRANT

Under terms of union, Newfoundland will receive a "transitional" grant of $12,750,000, spread over a number of years, as well as other payments and Canadian services, such as old age pensions, family allowances, veterans benefits and unemployment insurance.

ARCTIC FORCE SETS UP LIFE-DEATH SCHOOLS

GARDEN LOT PLAN BACKED

Re-opening of city-owned lots for gardening purposes will be voted in the Edmonton Horticultural Society next year if a recommendation of the city commissioners is accepted by city council.

This organization has handed the renting of lots for several years, and has rendered a useful service to the civic administration.

A nominal charge is made for the lots which is used to meet expenses. The society rented 1,321 lots in 1948.

The rental arrangement has relieved the city land department of the very considerable detail involved in the handling of the lots.

Arctic Survival To Be Taught At Fort Nelson and In N.W.T.

School instruction will be strictly a matter of life and death at the RCAF's newest establishment—a "survival training school" now being established at Fort Nelson, B.C., and Cambridge Bay in the Northwest Territories.

Scheduled to open this winter, the school will be staffed by experienced RCAF personnel and will include Eskimos and Indians on its instructional staff.

To TRAIN ALL

Ultimately it is planned to train all RCAF aircrew actively engaged in northern flying at the new school.

Because of the hazardous terrain and rigorous climate encountered by RCAF crews, whose normal flights cover most of Canada's uninhabited areas, it was decided that survival training was essential for all aircrew.

Case histories of forced-landings in isolated areas show that in many cases a lack of knowledge of self preservation can result in undue hardships and often in needless fatalities. Survival in most cases depends on a specialized knowledge of the area of operation, and the school's aim is to provide this knowledge as a possible preventive measure.

Ukrainian Group Hears Attack on Communism

Erudition of Communism in America can be achieved only by "complete exposure of its leaders who may be found in the inner circles of political Zionism and behind the hazy decks of Wall Street."

This was the opinion of William Tomyn, MLA for Wollaston, Edmonton, who addressed 500 for the most part approving, people at the Ukrainian National Hall, 1029 36 street, Sunday afternoon.

Meeting was sponsored by the Ukrainian Canadian Congress, a national organization, which in Edmonton is composed of five delegates from four Ukrainian organizations. According to the local UCC chairman, Leo Parys, the committee works for the advancement of Ukrainian Canadians and is definitely anti-Communist.

As the main speaker, Mr. Tomyn addressed the group on the "Menace of Communism."

He strongly criticized the 11,000 member association of United Ukrainian Canadians, which he claimed, was a "Communist front organization."

"The AUCU," he said, "which is under the control of the Communist International, and AUCU sympathizers represent only 10 per cent of Ukrainian Canadians."

"But the Canadian public can distinguish between the enlightened and subversive Ukrainian organizations because the AUCU follows the well-established Communist system of constantly changing its name."

Fire Alarm Funds Asked

City council tonight will be asked to authorize expenditures totaling $10,000 for completion of a fire alarm system of the city's fire alarm system.

This extension has been proceeding for the past two years. Its completion by the end of 1950 will provide facilities to serve a population of 250,000.

Construction of a central communications building is proposed for 1950. Its cost is estimated at $85,000.

Expenditures scheduled for 1949 include: Purchase of electrical cable to blanket South Side districts and provide lateral throughout the city leading to the new communications building. Cost of material, $35,000.

Revision of outside circuits, including cable installation, splicing, manhole construction, lateral and the work. Cost is estimated at $100,000.

Replacement of obsolete alarm bells will cost $35,000.

Expenditures in 1950 include $50,000 for central office telephone equipment; its installation $100,000, and equipping fire stations, $20,000.

Christmas Exodus Nears

They're singing "I'll be home for Christmas" around the University of Alberta these days and visitors of home and turkey rise in tantalizing competition to the printed pages of Euclid and Horace.

Immediately following exams, Dec. 20, the annual Christmas exodus will take place, when an estimated three out of five U of A students will be boarding train, plane or bus for Christmas at home.

Inspiring a good deal of the Yuletide spirit are the Christmas decorations that embellish student residences. Athabasca hall is festive with streamers, Santa Claus and reindeer, while a huge tree, sparkling in Christmas splendor, enjoys the centre of interest.

NOT USUAL WINTER SCENE in Montreal is this remembrance to a Mississippi river town in the spring. No, it isn't the St. Lawrence acting up—the flooding here occurred when a big water main broke near the intersection of St. James and Little Craig streets. ## TAX POLICY SUPPORTED

Policy of payment of taxes will be continued in 1949 if a recommendation of the city commissioners is accepted by city council.

Commissioners are recommending authorization of a discount of 3½ per cent for prepayment of 1949 land taxes. The discount will be calculated from Jan. 15 to the installment due date of all taxes paid on or before Jan. 15, 1949.

J. B. Garfield, city solicitor, will submit a by-law covering the proposal to city council tonight.

Tram Deficit Action Urged

Immediate action to stem the increasing deficit incurred by the city's transit system is requested by the Edmonton Property Owners' Association.

This request will be considered by aldermen at tonight's city council meeting.

The association suggests that if a satisfactory solution cannot be arrived at through departmental efforts that an expert in transit system operation be requested to advise on ways and means of making the city's system self-supporting.

Since this resolution was adopted by the organization city commissioners have announced that Norman E. Wilson, Toronto traffic expert, would make a survey of the city's transit system starting early in January.

Deficit incurred by the system for the first 10 months of the year amounted to $161,559.18.

Jew Conversion Attempts Charged

TORONTO, Dec. 13.—(CP)—Rabbi Abraham I. Feinberg charged last night that Ontario public school teachers are trying to convert Jewish children to the Christian faith.

He made his charge in an interview following an address to a conference of the central region of the Canadian Jewish Congress in which he said "discouraging friends" in relations between Jews and gentiles in Ontario have appeared in the last two years, especially in regard to summer resort accommodation and in handling of employment applications.

PEDESTRIAN EVENS SCORE

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 13.—(AP)—A man hoarded a streetcar here yesterday, police reported, and asked motorists to let him pass. The man, identified as Laurence Smart, 41, was recognized by police.

"No," said Smart.

"In the way you nearly ran over a black back," said the pedestrian.

The man slapped the streetcar brake handle down on Smart's head, pushed the motorist through the front window of the vehicle and calmly walked away.

Smart, treated for a scalp laceration, said he had barely missed a jawbreaker just before the incident.

3 Young Veterans Named To Top Scona Legion Posts

Three Second World War veterans will occupy main executive posts in Strathcona Canadian Legion Branch No. 150 during 1949.

A. L. Hamilton, who served in the RCAF, was named president for the next branch year by acclamation when officers for 1949 were nominated at a regular meeting Sunday.

NAVAL VETERANS

First vice-president will be Norman Stanners, who held the chief executive post by second vice-president. Both served in the Royal Canadian Navy between 1939-45.

As in the case of president-elect Hamilton, Stanners and Edwards also take office by acclamation.

Hamilton succeeds Dave Roberts in the presidency of the rapidly growing Strathcona branch. Mr. Roberts, who has held the chief executive office for the past two years, declined to have his name go before the meeting for re-nomination but pledged full support to branch affairs next year as an ex-officio member of the executive.

WERE ON EXECUTIVE

President-elect Hamilton served as first vice-president on the 1948 executive. Stanners was second vice-president.

Edwards was serving a two-year term on the branch executive.

Six new members of the 1949 executive board will be voted in at the January meeting from among the following, nominated at Sunday's meeting: Walter Ross, George Goldard, A. A. Davies, W. H. Hadd, C. Willis, Harry Barrett, Lionel Dineen, W. McKenzie and John Adamson.

NOW 538 MEMBERS

Total membership of the branch is now 538.

Poppy and wreath sales this year resulted in net receipts in excess of $8,000. A. A. Davies reported on behalf of the Poppy Fund Board.

Patrick Ashby, MP for Edmonton East, a veteran of First Great War service with the P.M.C.I. Regiment, addressed the meeting briefly.

Mr. Ashby said the British Crown and flag, he maintained against all enemies.

"If we lose our King we're through," the East Edmonton member of parliament declared.

British institutions are the best in the world but above is creeping and must be corrected, he stated. Declaring it is not a politician, not even a Social Credit politician.
